THE LATE DUEL .- To the editor of The South: - The communication below was prepared according to date, the day after the meeting between Messrs Wise and Clemens. It was, however, withheld for reasons satisfactory to myself. I now request its inser-

I deem it unnecessary to make any addition or comment, as I do not think any can doubt the justification of Mr. Clemans in sending the challenge. The justification for his subsequent course, as that of myself, must be decided upon according to the facts as here submitted. Very respectfully,

A CARD -- RICHMOND, 18th Sept. 1858 .-Having heard various rumors with reference to the difficulty between the Hon. Sherrard Clemens and O. Jennings Wise, esq., and, conceding the justice of criticism upon the seconds in allowing the exchange of four shots, in the absence of a knowledge of facts, I deem it but proper to give the public these facts, and to allow them to decide upon whom rests the responsibility of the result.

On the 16th of September, at the request of Mr. Clemens, I delivered to Mr. O. J. Wise a challenge, which was accepted, and for arrangements I was referred to Mr. T. P. Chisitorial in the Enquirer, which Mr. Clemens regarded as a deliberate insult. By arrangement, the parties were to meet at or near sunrise, at the Fairfield Race Course, on Friday, moderate enquiry, and but iew sales reported at the 17th, and both parties had the liberty of selecting one outside friend in addition to surgeor. Before the hour fixed, the parties were on the field. Pryor was requested by Mr. Clemens to go with him and consented to do so, with the understanding that he would have no connection with the matter whatever, and that he might be useful in the event of Mr. Clemens being wounded, or to effect an accomodation. Mr. Geo. Ritchie was upon the field as the outside friend of Mr. Wise, accompanied by Dr. - as surgeon. Dr. - was the surgeon of Mr. Clemens. As soon as convenient, and without any propositions of amicable adjustment by the friends of either party, the distance (ten paces) was measured by the seconds, and the Pistols loaded. Before rehearsing the word as to be given, the princ pals were brought together, each exchanging the ordinary salutations. They were unchanged. Provisions are very dull; bacon then put in po-ition and weatons handed them. Mr. Irving, who had won the the word, then gave it in the usual manner. whereupon both principals fired deliberately but without effect. Mr. Pryor then came forward, and, remarking that both gentlemen had vindicated their honor, asked if the affair could not be settled without proceeding further. Mr. Irving replied that he desired an adjustment if consistent with the honor of Mr. Clemens, and, as evidence of that feeling, he with frew the challenge for the time. Mr. Chisman a-ked to see Mr. Wise, and returned with the reply from Mr. Wise that if the challenge was withdrawn, and Mr. Clemens satisfied, it was all right, and that they would leave the field, he honestly believed every word of it. Mr. Irving then said that as explanations were refused, Mr. Clemens had no bonorable option but to demand another fire, and the seconds proceeded to load. After the second fire without effect, Mr. Irving again withdrew the challenge, and proposed to refer the whole matter to the friends of the parties u, on the field, and announced his entire readiness to abide their decision. This proposition was understood to meet the ap-friend of Mr. Wise, as also of his surgeon. It was, however, rejected by Mr. Wise. Still desirous of adjusting the matwill commence as soon as thirty scholars are obtained. It obtained this week, the School will be described by the school of the unsatisfactory character of the ball offered. Burns was therefore remanded to the Marshai's custody in jail.

New York, Sept. 27.—The secure of the powers. Mr. Wise, and stated that there was none.

Mr Irving then demanded the third fire which was also without effect. Mr. Pryor modation, which were read to Mr. Wise, who remarked in reply, that it was a matter for the seconds to decide. Mr. Chisman, the second of Mr. Wise, then declined to sign the paper. Here is the statement as drawn up by Mr. Pryor: "Messrs. Wise and Clemens having met and exchanged shots three times, in our opinion their honor in entirely vind cated, and we insist that they be withdrawn from the field by their seconds." Accordingly they were withdrawn by their respective seconds.

This proposition was understool to have received the concurrence of both Mr. Wise's surgeon and Mr. Ritchie. After its rejection Mr. Irving stated to Mr. Chisman that he withdrew Mr. Clemens from the field, and would appeal to the public; and that in so doing he intended no r flection upon him. but, as a matter of course, would be willing to assume such responsibilities to others as might attach to such publication. The par-ties were preparing to leave the field, when Applicants will please address the undersignties were preparing to leave the field, when Mr. Clemens, hearing the facts from his surgeon, and with the bettef that the result | Board of Directors: of such publication would involve Ms. Irving in collision with Mr Wise, came forward and protested against his withdrawal under such circumstances, and appealed to Mr. Irving to continue his services. Af er some conversation with Mr. Clemens, Mr. Irving agreed to continue as his friend, and the challenge was renewed. The fourth fire being inevitable at this stage, Mr. Pryor stated in the presence of the other party, that the affair had gone far enough, and that he would not farther countenance the matter by his presence, and retired from the field. On the fourth fire Mr. Clemens was shot through the thigh, and fell.

Such are the facts, which I am confident no friend of either party will contradict .-The public can decide upon whom rests the responsibility of this continued prosecution of the affair to so serious a result. Whatever the consequences, I feel the conciousness of baving done everything that a gentleman could do to accommodate the matter. Re-C. IRVING.

The magnificent watch and attachments, intended as a present to Lieut, R. B. Pegram, U. S N., by the operatives of the Gosport Navy Yard, says the Norfolk Herald, has arrived and we understand that it will be formally presented some afternoon of the present week. It is a very superior Swiss gold, chronometer watch, with hunting cases and a heavy chain, to which is attached a gold fish, a compass, encased in gold, a piece of the Telegraph Cable, with splendid gold, mounting, having several nautical emblems upon either side, and a rich gold key. The following inscription is hand-omely engraved upon the inner side of the case:-"Presented to Lieut. Robert B.
